MOUNT VERNON .- The Mount Vernon Ladies' Association met at Mount Vernon on Tuesday, M'me Berghmans, presiding. There were present the following vice regents:— Georgia, Mrs. Eve; New Jersey, Mrs. Halsted; District of Columbia, Mrs. Barnes; Maryland, Miss Harper; Virginia, Mrs. Ball; Connecticut, Mrs. Hudson. The absent vice regents were represented by proxies.

The retirement of Miss Cunningham, late regent was announced and resolutions of courtesy adopted, and Mrs. Berghmans, of Pennsylvania, elected regent.

Judge Thomas, the chairman of the committee, introduced himself, also General Fitzhugh Lee, General Meems, and Mr. Rixio as the other members of the committee, who were warmly welcomed. Judge Thomas informed the council that the committee were her, in accordance with the requirements of the charter of the association, to offer their sympathy and friendly advice as might be needed, and to receive the report of improvements upon the estate; to assist, not to embarrass, the ladies; in fact, to act as a connecting link between the Mother State, Virginia, and the band of ladies who pursued their quiet but busy course in the care of this sacred spot. As a tangible proof of the interest of Virginia in the association the resident secretary and superintendent, Colonel Hollingsworth, had been created a "conservator of the peace for the limits of the Mount Vernon estate,' by an act of the Legistature of Virginia, approved January 26, 1874. The chairman also expressed for Virginia the desire to provide the mansion with furniture and other relies connected with Washington, and her intention to assist the association in this object.

The appointments by the regent of Mrs. Ball as vice regent for Virginia, and of Mrs. Aaron V. Brown vice regent for Tennessee, were confirmed by council.

The regent read her yearly report as vice regent for Pennsylvania and also as regent protem. This report showed that during the past fiscal year all outstanding debts of the association had been paid off, and that the association now stands clear of all debt; also, that necessary repairs had been made upon the mansion and estate; also reported the contribution of $1,350 for the endowment fund of the association, $1,100 of this being the gift of Mr. Chas. Macalester, of Philadelphia; Mr. Richard Penistan, of Philadelphia, $100; Mrs. W. S. Vaux, of Philadelphia, $100, and Miss Mary Fox, of Philadelphia, $50.

From New Jersey a contribution from the Masonic lodgers of $720 to the endowment fund; also, $563 for the restoring of the colonnades of the mausion.

New York also sent in handsome contributions amounting to over $1,000. A valuable Ayrshire cow proves a most acceptable gift from New York.

Interesting relics and contributions have also been received from the District of Columbia and Virginia. Among the latter a portrait of General Washington copied from an authentic miniature by Mr. J. Elder, of Richmond. The regular routine work of the association occupied the two days of the session.

The Council adjourned yesterday. POLICE REPORT. - The following cases have been reported at police headquarters since yesterday: Zero L. Thomas, colored, charged with steal-

SUICIDE. - The suicide of a man in Washington yesterday by throwing himself before the taain of cars from this city was noticed in yesterday's Gazette. The deceased has been recognized as Adam Bleucher, a German, formerly a tailor, doing business near the Long Bridge. He was about thirty-five years of age dressed in a black frock coat, black cloth vest, black pants, blue necktie, and wore a white shirt, a red flaonel undershirt, and a black slouch hat, A small German Testament was found on his person, as was also a pocket book containing $11 in greenbacks. After hearing the evidence the Coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the deceased, while laboring under a temporary aberration of the mind, threw himself under the engine, and was killed. No blame is attached to the railroad com-

BOAT RACE. - The Washington Republican says: The lovers of boating and sports on the water will soon have an opportunity of enjoying the pleasure of a yacht race. Mr. George Sheckells is the prime mover in the approaching regatta, which takes place next Monday week. The entries will be made in three classes, and there must be two in each to fill, those short being decided out. The first will admit boats of 47 feet keel and under to 27 feet, when the second class begins and runs down to 21 feet; from this figure the third class begins, and embraces all boats beneath these figures. The prizes will be $50 for the winning boat of the first class, $30 for that of the second class, and $20 for the successful one of the third. It the winners desire it instead of the money, silver cups will be given to the full value of the

STOLEN BOAT.-A sail-boat, called a Sharper, was brought here yesterday by a man giving his name as Wilson who sold it to a colored man named Sam. Day for $20. This morning while one of Day's friends was taking a sail in it he was hailed by Joseph Hayden, at | Fishtown, and when he came ashore Hayden drove him out of it, jumped in it himself, and sculled it down to King street dock, saying it belonged to Mr. Lancaster, of Charles county, Md. Day had a warrant issued immediately for his arrest and Justice May made him deliver the boat to Day until he could bring wit nesses to prove that it did really belong to Mr. Lancaster.

St. John's Caders.—The following postal card was received here this morning from a gentleman who accompanies the cadets of St. John's Academy on their excursion up the C. & O. Canal:

"HARPER'S FERRY, June 4. "We have just arrived from Autietam. We go out to Hagan's this p. m. and will leave for home to-night, arriving there late on Saturday evening. Like to have been drowned out by the rain yesterday.'

OUTRAGE. - A colored woman, formerly the slave of Mr. John Broders, and still living with that gentleman, near Springfield station, was caught in the woods near that place, while on her way home, last Sunday afternoon, by two colored men, who bentally outroand her.

A VERY FULL LINE—ALL NUMBERS— colored men, who brutally outraged her. Mr.

Memorial Celebration.

FREDERICKSBURG, June 5.-Yesterday was truly a gala day in this city, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone of a monument to be erected to the memory of the Confederate dead, under the auspices of the Ladies' Memorial Association. The meeting of the Baptist Association being held here at this time, had congregated a vast number of visitors from the surrounding cities, and indeed from all parts of the State, and from early morn carriages and vehicles of every description were bringing large numbers to the scene of the ceremonies. The streets were filled with a smiling and happy people, as in days of yore, making us feel that there was life in the old land

The hotels were crowded, and with the characteristic hospitality of the old town, the private residences of our citizens were thown open and all found a hearty welcome.

At five o'clock the procession was formed, consisting of citizens, Confederate soldiers, various organizations, Society of Odd Fellows. and the Fredericksburg Lodge, No. 4, A. F. & A. M., and preceeded by a fine band of mu sic, it marched through the principal streets to the Confederate Cemetery, at the gate-way of which a triumphal arch had been erected. which the ladies had decorated most beautifully with the rarest flowers and evergreens.

An immense concourse of ladies had already assembled near the platform, where the ceremonies of the evening were to be conducted. The masonic fraternity having taken their position, M. W., Wm. H. Lambert, of Alexandria, Grand Master of Masons of Virginia, having made a few introductory remarks, proceeded to lay the corner stone of the new monument, with the usual impressive ceremomonies of the ancient craft.

Rev. M. Gardiner, of the M. E. Church, South, having offered up a fervent prayer to the Throne of Grace, Major Robert Stiles, of Richmond, the orator of the day, was introduced to the audience and delivered an impassioned and eloquent address, giving universal satisfaction to all.

The graves of the fallen heroes were then ecorated with wreaths and garlands of followers, and although there were upwards of three thousand, not a single grave was neglected. It was estimated that from three to four thousand persons were present on the occasion. Gen. Fitz Lee was Chief Marshal.
